

NTM symposium and PhD defence program, September 19, 2025

- 12.00 Lunch sandwich in the foyer (outside Auditorium G206-142)
- 12.30 Introduction and presentations (Christian Wejse)
- 12.35 What are NTM, and how do we diagnose them in the lab? (Troels Lillebæk)
- 12.50 What is NTM-PD, and how do we diagnose it in the clinic? (Andreas Fløe)
- 13.05 Treatment of NTM-PD: Current paradigms and dilemmas (Mateja Jankovic)
- 13.20 Patients at particular risk of NTM-PD: Risk reduction and management of chronic infections
(Jens-Ulrik Stæhr Jensen)
- 13.35 Break
- 13.50 NTM outside the lungs (Åse Bengård Andersen)
- 14.05 NTM in Greenland and among migrants – a Lady Windermere disease? (Christian Wejse)
- 14.20 Why does NTM treatment frequently fail? (Jakko van Ingen)
- 14.35 Panel debate, followed by a short break
- 15.00 PhD defence: “Epidemiology of nontuberculous mycobacterial disease in Denmark: insights and global perspectives” (Victor Næstholt Dahl)
- 17.00 Reception

The symposium will be held in room G206-124, and the PhD defence will take place in auditorium G206-142, located near entrance “G” at Aarhus University Hospital, Brendstrupgårdsvej 105, 8200 Aarhus N.